

In response to the current outbreak of EV1, The PCQHA Summer Celebration show intends to proceed as planned. Veterinarian advice suggests that we should proceed with the show unless there are further developments that would suggest otherwise. Refer to our website for any future updates.